

Get Funded, Build a Legacy

Will your company and campus be next?

Our portfolio of innovators from UC campuses:

We look for:

- impact Could your company be a social unicorn? That is, could it touch a billion lives?
- distribution How do you get your product in the hands of everyone who can benefit?
- resilience Can you survive in the face of adversity?
- stickiness Do people love your product?
- superpowers What do you do that no one else can?

Have a business you'd like to share with us?

Calling all campus innovators. Your idea or research should be the next company to benefit billions of lives. To find a form and submit your idea, head to:

To benefit billions of lives, it's time to break the status quo of investing.

What is Bow?

Bow is a venture capital fund bridging the best of academia, business, and entertainment. We formed to combine the discoveries of the University of California with the business potential of Silicon Valley and entertainment.

Collaborate to Innovate: The Venture Bus

A hardware bus is where different hardware components plug in to talk to each other, getting the connectivity they need to work. We think of Bow as a venture bus, a place where entrepreneurs plug in to connections they need to build great companies.
