

Eligibility for UC Travel Insurance Benefits

This information is a brief description of the important features of the UC Travel Plans. Coverage is subject to the language of the policies as actually issued.

The two main criteria that determine whether a trip will be covered by UC travel insurance are that the traveler is an eligible traveler, and the activity the traveler is traveling for is a covered activity. See diagram and hyperlinks below for clarification.

Scenarios:

1. A student plans to participate in a summer internship in Hong Kong. They work with their campus Study Abroad office to get their experience categorized as an Academic Internship Program. This student will be covered by the UC Travel Insurance during their internship program.
2. A student who has family in Mexico decides to intern at his uncle's company over the Summer. His UC campus is not monitoring or providing credit for this internship program. This student will not be covered by UC Travel Insurance during his internship program.

3. A UC employee volunteers for an organization that builds homes in Haiti, and uses vacation time toward travel to Haiti with a group from the organization. This trip will not be covered by UC Travel Insurance.
4. A faculty member travels to Israel to meet with colleagues from Hebrew University over Spring Break. This trip will be covered by UC Travel Insurance as long as the meetings with colleagues are considered UC business. If travel is approved and paid for by UC, then it is UC business travel.
5. A documentary filmmaker from Ghana is invited to present a lecture on a UC campus. This trip will be covered by UC Travel Insurance if the filmmaker's travel is paid for by a UC budget. The filmmaker falls under eligibility class 4 or 5 (depending on their age) because they are 'traveling at the express direction and with the approval of the UC.'

To discuss whether a specific trip qualifies for UC Travel Insurance, please contact your campus Travel Risk Manager or the UC Travel Insurance Liaison at UCTravelInsurance@ucop.edu.